The annual Tax Sale was held with only two small parcels of land being sold at same.

Representatives from the Rosenort Community Centre attended to solicit financial support for its skating rink. Strong encouragement was given to form a local improvement area in this district, thus permitting levying for its needs through taxation.

Peter Langes, architect, gave a progress report on the Municipal Building. With most discrepancies taken care of, final payment to the contractor can now be made.

A discussion followed on the subject of Non-Ward operation and accounting, as recommended by the Finance & Budget department of the government.

Another subject of prime importance, namely a Public Works Foreman, received considerable attention with further study to follow.

The Meeting adjourned, after which
The Council, staff and councillors wives all gathered at the residence of George P. Goossen's, Rosenort, for a Christmas Dinner.
